Field game "30 - Thirty"

Shall we play a Game?

Field Game "30 - Thirty" - Rules

Materials: board, 4 pawns, dice, list of tasks and questions, notes with numbers and passwords.

Game: The game is played in a schoolyard. There are 30 cards with numbers and passwords hidden around the game area, along with a board featuring 30 numbers arranged randomly. There are 4 teams of players. The leader of each team rolls the dice, moves their pawn, and must locate the number they landed on. All teams start the game simultaneously. Each team searches for numbers, and once found, they must memorize the password associated with it. They then run to the teacher, who serves as the game leader, and recite the password together. Each password corresponds to a task or question they are given. After completing the task, the team leader can roll the dice again. The team that completes the game first and reaches the finish point on the board is the winner.

Field Game "30- Thirty" - Rules

The "Thirty Game" is an excellent team-building activity that unites and integrates a group, mainly through the tasks they must complete together. Participants quickly discover their specific roles, with one being better in math, another excelling in sports, and someone else turning out to be a great team leader. Every skill becomes valuable when facing the tasks required to finish the game.

Task for the organizer: Prepare the game board, create 30 unique tasks, riddles, and exercises, and motivate the group accordingly.

Good luck! :)

P.S. You can change the game into "50 - Fifty"

P.S. 2. You can give each team a few minutes to prepare their own game piece (a stone, pinecone, chestnut, small toy like a tiny car, etc.)
