Turkish Traditional Games

We have learned many Turkish traditional games during the Turkey Mobility in our project...

The real adventure begins ...

The Hungry Apple

It's a traditional Turkish game, the hands of the players are tied in their back, and the apples are hung on the rope. Who eats the apple fast, he wins the prize. 🍏🍏🍏🍏🍏

It is not so easy, however they are having great fun..

Don't touch it, please. It's forbidden... :)

THE MOST EXCITING GAMES

of the Season

Like a Kangaroo in the sack

The Sack Race

Competitors have to get to the finish line quickly while in the sack. Competitors who try to complete the competition quickly may fall to the ground. In such a case, his opponent will continue to jump and his opponent will be ahead of him. The person who finishes the game first wins the game.

BE CAREFUL! MIND
YOUR STEP..

A VARIETY OF PURPOSES,
FROM BALANCE TO FUN

THE EGG CARRIER

They hold the handle of a tablespoon in their mouth. An egg is placed on each contestant's spoon. The contestant starts walking quickly from the starting whistle. The aim is to reach the destination line without dropping the egg from the spoon.

ORIENTEERING

Fun and Strategy

In orienteering, athletes try to reach the targets specified on the map of the competition area given to them, respectively and as soon as possible. Checkpoints have orange-white flags. Competitors prove that they have reached the checkpoint by pressing the punch next to the flag on the slip in their hand.

Maths Games

SUSTAINABLE THINKING

We love Maths a lot, so we play different versions of it..

Math games are a fun way for kids to practice math skills like counting and numerical strategy.

Players use 2, 3 or 4 numbers next to each other and reach a result by adding, subtracting, multiplying or dividing. They write the result obtained right next to the numbers used and earn points equal to the number they reach.

Thanksss...
